

EXFOUR is your competent, reliable partner who relieves you in matters of OASI/DI, IC, maternity, paternity and assistance benefits, family allowances, daily sickness benefits and much more

Who profits from our services in a noticeable and sustainable way:

- You and your company
- Your HR department
- Your employees

The EXFOUR-offices

- are active in all Swiss cantons
- communicate in all official languages and English
- offer a complete electronic handling of day-to-day business

«Only after changing to the EXFOUR compensation office did I realize how much my Personnel Department was relieved in their workload by using their services.»

*Regula Zimmerli, Head of HR
Weltbild Verlag GmbH*

How the OASI compensation office specifically relieves your workload:

- One annual statement with one contribution rate for administrative costs for all sites throughout Switzerland
- Advantageous contributions to administrative costs with selective refunds due to a wide diversification of our branch associations and non-profit organisation
- Participation and influence on the operational business thanks to the representatives of the branch associations in the board
- Noticeable and significant synergetic effects in the handling of the family allowances and the daily sickness indemnities
- Complete electronic handling of the day-to-day business, independent of time and location
- Short processing times
- Competent and helpful staff

How the family allowances office specifically relieves your workload:

- The only office who for all members will directly contact your employees in matters of the determination and verification of entitlement to allowances
  - You only receive the decision for payment or cessation of the family allowances
  - Thereby the contact with your employees is compliant with data protection rules
- All sites in all cantons are included in a single compensation statement once a year
- Additional cantonal compensations are integrated in one single contribution rate and reduce the administrative workload noticeably thanks to only one statement
- Advantageous contribution rates due to favourable risk communities
- Short processing times and complete electronic handling of the day-to-day business, independent of time and location

«The direct contact of the family allowance office with my employees entitled to benefits relieves my workload and preserves the confidentiality of my employees.»

Philip Senn
VELOPLUS AG

«The non-profit organisation of the daily sickness allowance office EXFOUR relieves me financially and supports our employees closely and professionally.»

*Thomas Ineichen
Musikschule Zürcher Oberland*

How the daily sickness allowance insurance office specifically relieves your workload:

- Advantageous contribution rates owing to non-profit management
- Relief from the obligation to continue to pay wages in case of sickness
- Flexible insurance solutions regarding the daily indemnity amount and the deferral period
- Close and individual support of the employees in the event of an insured event
- Complete electronic handling of the day-to-day business, independent of time and location
- Synergetic effects associated with experience from the OASI and DI
